16th Sunday of Pentecost

The Syriac tradition is rich with saints that draw the heart and mind to contemplation of God in many diverse ways. This past Saturday (September 1) was the feast of St. Simeon the Stylite who, according to tradition, died this Sunday. St. Simeon was a contemporary of St. Maron in the same area of Syria, and they probably knew each other. Like St. Maron, St. Simeon was known for being a devote hermit with disciples, and practiced the monasticism that we so often say defines the Syriac tradition. Each saint lived a holy life that shows us the way to God. The same is true for St. Simeon.

St. Simeon was known as a “Stylite” because he sat upon a style – a pillar. From there, he lived out the rest of his life fasting and praying. How odd it sounds that a saint should aspire to holiness by sitting on a pillar! But it is not the pillar that made him holy nor is it why he is a saint. St. Simeon, like the other great monks of his time, like St. Maron, sought to make God the very center of his life. To do so, he put distance between himself and the things of this world – quite literally. St. Simeon sat upon his pillar, far from material desires and cares to focus his life on God.

So should we all leave our lives and sit upon pillars? Probably not. But the asceticism, that is the spiritual practices, of St. Simeon are venerable because they show the saint's aspiration to be near God by refusing the distractions of this fleeting world. This world fades away but God remains forever, and as our Lord teaches us, "Do not store up for yourselves treasures on earth, where moths and vermin destroy, and where thieves break in and steal. But store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where moths and vermin do not destroy, and where thieves do not break in and steal" (Matt. 6:19-20). St. Simeon built up his heavenly treasures by his endeavors upon the pillar. There is certainly a time for action, and there is also a time for prayer. Prayer is not a last resort, but what our Lord instructed us by His own example both in the desert and before His life-giving Passion. In fact, in our tradition, we do not create a dichotomy between prayer and action – prayer is an action! Just as Job strove against Satan in the actions of his life, so too did St. Simeon in his prayer upon the pillar, as our prayers draw the parallel:

Who has looked in the world to see these two are similar, blessed Simeon and righteous Job? For they both conquered the Evil One and his entire army, and they pleased God with virtuous deeds. (Trans. from the Syriac Maronite Vespers for the Feast of St. Simeon)

Asceticism is not just for stylites or monks, but it is something that defines Christianity, and more specifically Syriac Christianity. Though we might not sit upon literal pillars, we should sit upon spiritual ones. And in simple ways we can bring about this striving to separate ourselves from the passing world and draw nearer to God. Fasting is commonly mentioned in the Syriac tradition precisely because of this – it affords us time to think less of something as commonplace and ubiquitous as food to devote more time in the day to prayer, speaking with God. Asceticism is not about depriving ourselves of something, but focusing on the truly important – fasting does not seek hunger, but greater attention for God. The Eastern Fathers asked the faithful to fast Wednesdays and Fridays as a way of sanctifying the week and refocusing on God in this noisy, busy world. Perhaps we are not called to the amazing feat of sitting on a pillar for thirty years, but just as Job is compared to St. Simeon though they led very different lives, God also calls us to the same holiness. Let us join St. Simeon upon the spiritual pillar and seek God with our whole hearts. What greater or more imperishable treasure can be built up than our relationship with God?

National Day of Remembrance for Aborted Children

Memorial Service for Victims of Abortion, Saturday, September 8, at 9:15 a.m., St. Mary Magdalene Catholic Church, 2252 Woodruff Rd., Simpsonville, SC 2968. On Saturday, September 8, pro-life Americans throughout the country will gather at the gravesites of aborted babies and other memorial sites dedicated in their honor for the Sixth annual National Day of Remembrance for Aborted Children. Solemn vigils will be held at these sites to commemorate the more than 55 million children who have lost their lives to legal abortion since 1973, and to remind our society of the humanity of the unborn child. Together, let us remember the victims of abortion and pray for a final end to this injustice in our land during the National Day of Remembrance for Aborted Children. Contact respectlife@smmcc.org.

Prayers & Squares

Prayers and Squares is a prayer ministry that also involves making prayer quilts and prayer squares for those facing medical, spiritual, emotional difficulties, or anyone in the Parish that is active duty military. Don't know how to quilt? That's ok, we can teach you. Not interested in sewing? That's ok, we will need help with staying organized, record keeping and correspondence. What is needed are willing hearts and hands to do God's work and pray together for those in need, and each other too.

A prayer quilt or square, once requested, is made and tied with each knot representing a prayer for that individual and their specific needs. The recipient must be willing to receive the quilt and the prayers. The purpose of the group is not to give away quilts, but to offer a physical representation of God's love and the prayers of the community. A recipient is able to wrap themselves in prayer during a difficult time. The quilt itself has no power, but the prayers offered do.

The most up to date Maronite Voice is always available here.

Special Holy Hour

In place of our regular Holy Hour this Sunday, we will have Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament, Chaplet of Mercy, Ramsho (Vespers/Evening Prayer) and prayers for the Church in this time of crisis, concluding with Benediction. Please join us to offer prayers for the deacons, priests and bishops who are faithful and for forgiveness and mercy for those who have sinned. This is the time for faithful Catholics to come together to pray and ask God's healing and Grace upon the Church. Please join us this Sunday, September 2 at 3 PM.

Middle Eastern Delights!

The Novena for the Abuse Crisis | Accountability, Transparency and Healing

Father in Heaven, have mercy on us and on the whole world.

Holy Spirit, comfort us, give us clarity, and bring light to this darkness and evil.

St. Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the Devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray, and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly hosts, by the power of God, cast into hell Satan, and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.

Saint Peter, pray for the Church, that it may be re-built, healed, and made holy.

St. Charles Lwanga and St. Monica, pray for the abused, the survivors and for justice.

St. Catherine of Siena, pray for reform and restoration of the clergy.

St. John Vianney, pray for the holiness of priests and bishops.

St. Benedict, pray that this evil be cast out of the Church.

St. Anthony, pray for us to find the way forward.

St. Paul, pray for the bishops that they may be fearless in confronting other bishops.

St. Augustine, pray for true repentance and transparency.

St. Dymphna, pray for consolation for the heartache, depression and anxiety this evil has caused.

Our Lady of Sorrows, pray for us!

A Unique Parishioner Call for Help

Dear Friends,

Re: End-Stage Kidney Disease

Some of you may already know: I have end-stage kidney disease. My kidneys do not work well enough to keep me alive, and my treatment options are limited to dialysis or kidney transplant.

Regular hemodialysis treatments, three times per week for four hours at a time, help my kidneys do their job and keep me alive. But a transplant would offer me the ability to live a longer, healthier, more normal life and with more freedom.

Finding a kidney for a transplant is not easy. There are 100,000+ people, just like me, on the waiting list for a deceased donor kidney. Time is not on our side. Some die while waiting. I've been waiting nearly six years, about a year longer than the average wait time of five years.

There is another option: receiving a kidney from a living donor. Asking a family member or a friend to donate a kidney is very difficult for me, extremely personal, takes much thought and involves your family's consideration. Your decision will not affect our relationship, and I absolutely do not want a donor feeling pressured in any way.

You may not know a lot about living donation, which I did not until recently. Understandably, many people are fearful of surgery and what living with one kidney will mean for them. Here's some basic information about kidney donation:

- Most people are born with an extra kidney - only one is needed to live a long, healthy life.
- As a living donor, you will have a separate team of Healthcare professionals to evaluate you. Their job is to help YOU understand the risks and benefits, looking out for YOUR best interests.
- Cost of your evaluation and surgery will be covered by my insurance; the hospital can provide to you more information.
- Most donor surgery is done laparoscopically, meaning through tiny incisions.
- Recuperation is usually fairly quick, generally two weeks, for people with desk jobs, to six weeks, for jobs involving heavy lifting.

What is a paired kidney exchange? Roughly one-third of kidney failure patients with a willing living donor will be unable to receive the kidney because of incompatibility. In a paired kidney exchange, a donor may donate their kidney to another recipient in exchange for a compatible kidney for their loved one.

Before deciding, you can explore the living donation program by calling MUSC's Kelly Canavan, my Living Donor Coordinator, at 843-792-1594.

A living donation may not be right for you, but you can still help. Please help by sharing my story, spreading the word about kidney disease, raising awareness of living donation and helping me and the many others on the waiting list.

Thank you for reading and for your concern and for your help in spreading the word about kidney disease.

Appreciatively, Joe Baranski 864-201-2480 Greer, SC

Scripture Readings for Sunday

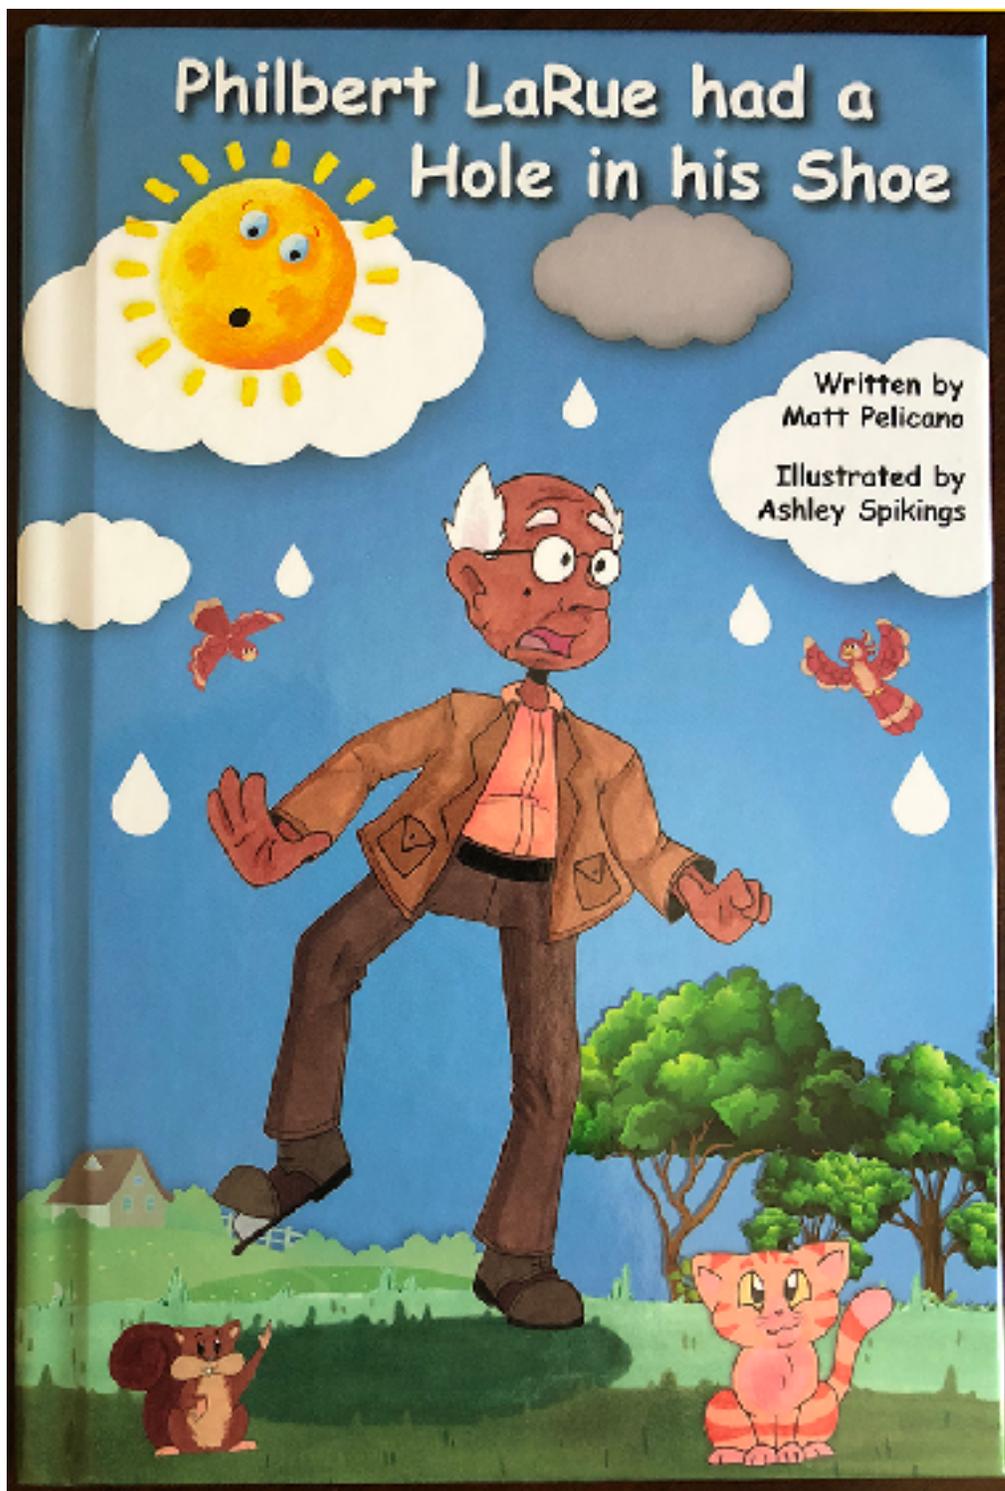

Romans 8:18-27

I consider that the sufferings of this present time are as nothing compared with the glory to be revealed for us. For creation awaits with eager expectation the revelation of the children of God; for creation was made subject to futility, not of its own accord but because of the one who subjected it, in hope that creation itself would be set free from slavery to corruption and share in the glorious freedom of the children of God. We know that all creation is groaning in labor pains even until now; and not only that, but we ourselves, who have the first fruits of the Spirit, we also groan within ourselves as we wait for adoption, the redemption of our bodies. For in hope we were saved. Now hope that sees for itself is not hope. For who hopes for what one sees? But if we hope for what we do not see, we wait with endurance. In the same way, the Spirit too comes to the aid of our weakness; for we do not know how to pray as we ought, but the Spirit itself intercedes with inexpressible groanings. And the one who searches hearts knows what is the intention of the Spirit, because it intercedes for the holy ones according to God's will.

Luke 18:9-14

He then addressed this parable to those who were convinced of their own righteousness and despised everyone else. Two people went up to the temple area to pray; one was a Pharisee and the other was a tax collector. The Pharisee took up his position and spoke this prayer to himself, O God, I thank you that I am not like the rest of humanity greedy, dishonest, adulterous or even like this tax collector. I fast twice a week, and I pay tithes on my whole income. But the tax collector stood off at a distance and would not even raise his eyes to heaven but beat his breast and prayed, O God, be merciful to me a sinner. I tell you, the latter went home justified, not the former; for everyone who exalts himself will be humbled, and the one who humbles himself will be exalted.

Catholic Radio in S.C. 2018 Radiothon

The 2018 Radiothon will be Thursday & Friday September 27th & 28th. Radiothon always has a theme and every year we ask for God's guidance when choosing. Last year was the 100th Anniversary of the Fatima Apparitions, so the choice was obvious. While continuity with last year is important, each Radiothon also needs something a little different. So, let me share a story about a young woman of Faith with you.

Adele Brise was born in Belgium in 1831. She came with her parents as they immigrated to Wisconsin in 1855. In early October 1859, Adele saw a woman clothed in white standing between two trees: one a maple, the other hemlock. She was frightened by the vision and prayed until it disappeared.

On October 9, 1859, she saw the apparition a second time while walking to Mass in the community of Bay Settlement. She asked her parish priest for advice, and he told her that if she saw the apparition again, she should ask it, "In the Name of God, who are you and what do you wish of me?"

That same day, she saw the apparition a third time, and when she asked the question, "What more can I do, dear Lady?" the Lady's direction was simple: "Gather the children in this wild country and teach them what they should know for salvation."

"But how shall I teach them who knows so little myself?" Adele asked.

The Lady replied, "Teach them their catechism, how to sign themselves with the sign of the Cross, and how to approach the sacraments; that is what I wish you to do. Go and fear nothing. I will help you." Adele devoted the rest of her life to the task.

Such a fervent yet humble person is an inspiration for all of us. That's why the theme for the 2018 Radiothon will be "Our Lady of Good Help." We hope to bring attention to the Shrine in Champion, Wisconsin dedicated to these apparitions, the only apparitions in the United States which are approved by the Catholic Church.

Please consider supporting us in this endeavor by visiting the website: ShrineofOurLadyofGoodHelp.com and by praying about how you might help Catholic Radio in South Carolina. Please share this information with your friends and family and encourage them to use our Radiothon pledge line: 864-877-8458. Or, the 24/7 website is www.CatholicRadioInSC.com. Thank you, in advance, for your consideration and your prayers. May God bless you for all you do in accordance with His Will.
